++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A windy and showery day.

Today:
Brisk west to northwest winds will push frequent showers across the area, with outbreaks heaviest and most prolonged across the Trossachs. Best of the shelter expected towards the east coast, where brighter spells increase through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Northwest winds will hold the bulk of remaining showers across far northern and western Tayside, with the majority in the Central Belt staying dry with clear spells. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tuesday:
Weather improving with only a few isolated light showers, these mainly confined across northern and western Tayside. Most in Central Belt dry with good bright and sunny spells. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wednesday, Thursday mainly dry, bright with the few scattered showers largely confined across the far north. Friday turning cloudy with a chance of some patchy rain later.
